

2024 Health Equity Forum – Resources for Fostering Trust in Patient-Provider Relationships to Advance Health Equity

- Center for Health Care Strategies
Building Patient-Provider Trust to Help Patients Navigate a Biased System
<https://www.chcs.org/resource/building-patient-provider-trust-to-help-patients-navigate-a-biased-system/>
- National Patient Advocate Foundation
The Trust and Equity Project
<https://www.npaf.org/initiatives/trust-and-equity-project/>
- NIH -National Library of Medicine – National Academies
The Roles of Trust and Health Literacy in Achieving Health Equity
<https://nap.nationalacademies.org/catalog/26889/the-roles-of-trust-and-health-literacy-in-achieving-health-equity>
- Massachusetts League of Community Health Centers
Empowering Communities through Patient-Centered Care and Community Partnerships
<https://www.massleague.org/>
- March of Dimes PeriStats
PeriStats™ is the online source for perinatal statistics developed by the March of Dimes Perinatal Data Center. PeriStats provides free access to maternal and infant health-related data at the U.S., state, county, and city level. It was developed to ensure that health professionals, researchers, medical librarians, policymakers, students, and the media have easy access to this information. Data are updated throughout the year, and useful for multiple tasks, including fact-finding, health assessments, grant writing, policy development, lectures and presentations. <https://www.marchofdimes.org/peristats/about-us>
- The Center for Black Maternal Health and Reproductive Justice
The Center for Black Maternal Health and Reproductive Justice (CBMHRJ) was developed as an extension of the MOTHER Lab, founded, and directed by Dr. Ndidiamaka Amutah-Onukagha, PhD, MPH, CHES, the Julia A. Okoro Professor of Black Maternal Health and Assistant Dean of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the Department of Public Health and Community Medicine in the School of Medicine. The vision and rationale of the CBMHRJ is to protect the Black birthing experience by advocating for quality, equitable, and respectful care in childbirth. <https://blackmaternalhealth.tufts.edu/>